

The Scholarly Publishing Programme of the Academy of Science of South Africa (ASSAf)
Invites you to the SciELO South Africa - SciELO 25 Years Seminar on

Artificial intelligence detection tools and editorial decision-making policies

Introduction

Researchers began experimenting with ChatGPT when it was released in November 2022, looking at ways how they could benefit, and how it could support writing systematic reviews, literature searches, summarising academic articles, etc. which many publishers wanted to reject before the trend gained traction and other publishers drafting guidelines on the proper use of this technology. This webinar is aimed at discussing and gaining clarity on various issues such as editorial and publishing policies, research processes, and plagiarism.

The celebration of the 25th Anniversary of the SciELO Program in 2023 is held as a global forum and celebration in favour of research communication in the open science modus operandi in order to maximise the visibility and scientific, economic, technological, social, and cultural impact of information and scientific knowledge.

This seminar is SciELO SA's contribution towards the pre-conference seminar series.

Date: 29 June 2023

Time: 14:30 - 16:30 SAST (08:30 US East Coast)

Venue: Virtual (Zoom)

RSVP: Click here to register (Upon registration, you will receive a confirmation email with login details)

Programme

- 14:30 – 14:35 Welcome and introductions
Mrs Susan Veldsman (Director: Scholarly Publishing, ASSAf)
- 14:35 – 14:50 AI in publishing: Challenges and Opportunities
Dr Valda Vinson (AAAS, Executive Editor, Science Journals)
- 14:50 – 15:05 The ethical use of AI tools in publishing
Dr Daniel Kulp (Committee on Publication Ethics: COPE)
- 15:05 – 15:20 Can I use ChatGPT to generate a fully AI-authored thesis? Reflecting on prompting strategies and useful detection tools
Kirstin Krauss (Worldwide Information Services)
- 15:20 – 15:35 Panel Discussion
Using Yesterday & Today to educate a professional community at large about AI
Prof Johan Wasserman (Yesterday and Today)
- Using AI in editorial decision-making, some legal reflections
Prof Wian Erlank (Potchefstroom Electronic Law Journal)
- 15:35 – 16:25 Discussions
- 16:25 – 16:30 Closing remarks and closure
Susan Veldsman (ASSAf)

About the speakers

Mrs Susan Veldsman (Academy of Science of South Africa, ASSAf)

Susan is the Director of the Scholarly Publication Unit at the Academy of Science of South Africa, where she is, among other things, responsible for driving the Open Science agenda, to raise the visibility, discoverability, and accessibility of South African scholarly journals, improve the quality of SA research output, and support the development of policy frameworks in order to facilitate optimal use and access to publicly funded research. In 2013, she received the Electronic Publishing Trust (EPT) award for her outstanding contribution to the promotion of Open Access in Developing countries. Recently, she was the Co-chair of the IAP Report on Combating Predatory Journals and Conferences, which was launched on 16 March 2022.

Dr Daniel Kulp (Committee on Publication Ethics: COPE)

Dan is the current Chair of COPE (Committee on Publication Ethics) and has been in publishing for over 27 years. He started in 1996 as a professional full-time editor for Physical Review B, published by the American Physical Society, and eventually advanced to the position of Editorial Director for the entire Physical Review portfolio. In 2020, he joined the Publications Division of the American Chemical Society as Editorial Director and this past Fall he changed roles to become Senior Director, Research Integrity & Global Developments. Dan has been involved in all aspects of publishing including peer review, publication ethics, production, distribution, and personnel and financial management of journals.

Dr Kirstin Krauss (Worldwide Information Services)

Kirstin Krauss is Research Advisor for Worldwide Information Services (WWIS), where he plays a leading role in developing research capacity services for the WWIS Academy. He is also a Visiting Researcher for STADIO Higher Education, in support of their Masters and Doctoral programmes. He is employed full-time as Business Development Manager for Iontaofa Intelligence Ltd. (Ireland), where he leads and oversees client engagement and the development of services for the knowledge and information provisioning sector. In prior roles, Kirstin served as academic and Professor at a number of universities in South Africa. His research focuses on ICT for Development, Critical Ethnography, postgraduate student development, and mitigating questionable scholarly practices.

Dr Valda Vinson (AAAS, Executive Editor, Science Journals)

Valda is the Executive Editor for the Science journals. In this role she oversees research content strategy and editorial policy, at Science, Science Signaling, Science Translational Medicine, Science Immunology and Science Robotics. She started her career in publishing when she joined the Science staff in 1999 as an Associate Editor handling research papers in the areas of structural biology, biochemistry, and biophysics. In 2013 she became Deputy Editor, overseeing research content in the areas of cellular and molecular biology and biomedicine, and in 2018 was appointed Editor, overseeing research content in the life sciences and social sciences at Science. She earned an M.Sc. in Chemistry from the University of Natal, South Africa, in 1987 and a Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University in 1992. Her postdoctoral studies were also undertaken at Johns Hopkins University, where she focused on structural and biochemical studies of cytoskeletal proteins.

Prof Johan Wasserman (Yesterday and Today)

Johan Wassermann is a professor in History Education and Head of the Department of Humanities Education at the University of Pretoria, South Africa. His current research interests include youth and History, teaching issues of controversy in an African context, identity politics, and School History. He is editor-in-chief of Yesterday & Today, an accredited South African History Education journal and co-founder of the NPO, AHE-Afrika. He is a NRF C1 rated researcher.

Prof Wian Erlank (Potchefstroom Electronic Law Journal)

Wian Erlank is a Full Professor of Law at the Potchefstroom Campus of North-West University, where he currently teaches space law and cyber law. He is an NRF-rated researcher holding a Y1 rating. His doctoral dissertation, Property in Virtual Worlds, was completed at the University of Stellenbosch, as a doctoral candidate at the South African Research Chair in Property Law. He is also on the board of various international associations, including the Association for Law Property and Society and the Young Property Lawyers' Forum (YPLF), and has been an associate editor of Potchefstroom Electronic Law Journal (PER/PELJ). He is also a member of the SciELO SA Advisory Committee and previously served as a member of ASSAf's CSPISA.